

Two roles: Actuary–Principal & Actuarial Analyst

Are you looking to join an expanding organisation that truly partners to improve outcomes for its clients and their stakeholders?

Who are we?

McGing Advisory & Actuarial is a boutique actuarial consultancy founded by Sean McGing in 2010, former partner at Ernst & Young and founder of Askit Consulting. We have an extensive client base primarily across Melbourne and Sydney. We provide hands on, practical support and solutions to superannuation funds, wealth managers, life insurers and others within and outside financial services. We pride ourselves on providing cost effective, value added advice.

We love our variety of work which includes modelling, product design and pricing, risk management, regulatory change, investment governance, process and system reviews, unit pricing and data analytics. For “big” and “small” clients. (See www.mcging.com.au)

We love helping. We love learning. We love challenges. We value and support our people. And we need your help to take opportunities, and support our clients to improve member outcomes.

Who are you?

Do you love helping people? Do your values anchor your decisions? Are you a true team player, with a curious mind who always wants to learn more? Have you the energy, confidence, persistence and experience or desire to sell services?

Are you looking for a firm that is built on the calculated risks and opportunities of an entrepreneurial can-do attitude, while embracing work / life balance, enjoyment and freedom with responsibility in a strongly supportive environment? If so, talk to us now:

Role 1 – Actuary - Principal

Be the 2IC and business partner with the Managing Director (Sean). Share setting strategic direction, business development including building and nurturing long term client relationships, analysis and delivery of client advice, company, project and people management, peer review.

You are an FIAA or AIAA with consulting experience in Super, Life and/or Wealth Management.

This is a once in a lifetime career opportunity to join, grow, learn and be an owner in a consultancy that is actuarial at its core and multifaceted in its applications.

Role 2 – Actuarial Analyst

Provide actuarial and analytical support on client and company projects. Work effectively and efficiently in small teams with colleagues and clients. Provide input to improve all aspects of the company’s operation.

You have strong actuarial education results, some actuarial exam exemptions, aspiration to qualify as an actuary. Strong on Excel.

Desirable - Two to three years financial services work experience, ideally in consulting. Programming and data analytics knowledge.

How to apply

Roles are permanent, full time but could be more flexible. Melbourne based.

Please send your CV and a covering note saying why you’re interested and why you think you’re a good fit, to sean.mcging@mcging.com.au. Enquiries to Sean on (03) 8641 6970.
